

REINVENT YOUR SALESFORCE UPSKILLING STRATEGY AT SCALE – FROM A FEW TO THOUSANDS

Big events such as sales kick-offs, product launches, and other strategic sales initiatives have always played a critical role in ensuring sales teams are equipped with:

- Company’s current vision and strategy
- New product and services information
- Competitive and strategic GTM plays
- Sales skills to help sellers compete

Due to the global pandemic, successful global initiatives have only increased in complexity, requiring companies to transform how they approach and deploy high-stakes sales events.

If sales enablement isn’t able to grow and evolve to support global sales, it runs the risk of under-equipping the salesforce to compete.

Mandel has the solution with proven results. We infuse world-class training content – to enhance presentation, conversation, and storytelling skills – and partner with your sales enablement team to customize and deliver global, scalable, and digital experiences that directly map to your desired outcomes.

Scalable high-stakes experiences – digitally, virtually, and in-person

Whether to few or thousands, Mandel custom-designs your high-stakes initiatives to harness the potential of your people and prepare them to take action:

- Unify your global workforce by simultaneously deploying sales initiatives to unlimited people
- Up-skill sales employees rapidly, getting virtual sales reps productive faster
- Drive salesforce engagement by providing the resources your sellers need, when they need it
- Rapidly prepare sales teams globally to convey consistent and effective messaging
- Swiftly roll-out product launches with targeted content to various sales functions and roles
- Scale sales enablement programs across geos, ensuring consistent global adoption
- Reduce the time to deliver effective sales training while driving sales engagement and collaboration
